CUPID'S FOND HOPES REALIZED.

Miss Carrie Pate and Prof. Rufus McCoy Were Married in Louisville Friday Night.

BRIDE VERY POPULAR GIRL.

The first prank that Cupid has played in Cloverport social circles for many moons was the marriage of Prof. Rufus McCoy and Miss Carrie E. Pate, which was solemnized Friday night at the Willard Hotel in Louisville. The ceremony was said by Rev. Mr. Shelby, a former pastor of this place.

The young couple had been engaged for some time, but their serious plans were not hinted to the bride's parents Mr. and Mrs. Henry Pate. When they left this city Friday afternoon only one or two friends knew the secret of their trip.

Prof. McCoy is the first assistant in the Cloverport High School and is an excellent young man who has made good along all lines. The bride is a lovely girl, and very popular. The News join many friends in wishing Prof. McCoy and Mrs. McCoy much happiness.

TEACHERS' MEETING

At Irvington Arouses Interest Among Patrons and Scholars--Citizens Delightfully Entertained.

The teachers' meeting for this district, the last one for this school year, convened here in the chapel hall of the college building Saturday afternoon.

The rain and mud kept many away. Although the elements were against us, we had an excellent meeting.

The welcome address was not given except in the very cordial way in which the good people received and entertained the teachers in their homes.

Prof. Pile, who was to respond to the welcome address, gave an excellent talk. He paid a high tribute to Mrs. Piggott, stating that she was one of the brightest literary lights in Kentucky as well as a very remarkable woman in many other ways. He remarked that this lady came from Hardinsburg. He said that whenever Hardinsburg got a good thing Irvington could not rest content until she had something as good or better. Prof. Martin came first to Hardinsburg, and it was Prof. Pile who brought him into the county. He felt that Irvington is a town of great energy and activity. It would be difficult to tell all the good things said about our little growing city by this teacher who has for years been deeply interested in the schools of this county and State.

Prof. H. R. Kirk, one of our college teachers, was next on the program. His subject, "The Importance of Prompt and Regular Attendance at School," was well presented. Mr. Kirk closed his remarks by telling us that the consolidating of our normal schools would solve the problem of prompt and regular attendance.

The subject was then taken up by Prof. R. E. McFarland, Superintendent of Daviess County Schools, and discussed at some length. Mr. McFarland's talk was both entertaining and instructive.

At the close of Supt. McFarland's remarks, Prof. Maxey, principal of the High School of Hardinsburg, asked the question, "In the absence of consolidated schools, what shall we do under present conditions to secure prompt and regular attendance?"

Prof. Martin answered this question by saying that he felt that our good county superintendent accomplished much good by holding these teachers' meetings all over the county. In these teachers' meetings we meet the teachers, or most of them, of each district, and very few of the patrons attend. Our object should be to have the patrons attend such meetings and to have them take part in these discussions. Show the patrons that we, as teachers, wish to know them and their children in their home life. Prof. Martin urged the necessity of organizing the patrons into a society for the purpose of discussing all subjects of vital interest to their children in connection with the schools.

Prof. Jasper Head, principal of the Lexington Public School, gave a good talk on "How to Teach Reading." Mr. Head handled his subject well and brought out many strong points. We regret that the young teachers from all over the county could not have heard Mr. Head's excellent instruction.

Our time was limited and Supt. Driskell was as full as ever of good things to say to the teachers, but this time he gave most of the time to his teachers and visitors.

Prof. Ater gave a short talk on "The Importance of Penmanship in the School Course." He stated that poor equipments and incompetent teachers were causes that prevented the subject from being taught properly.

Prof. Lewis O'Brien presented "Some of the Difficulties of English Grammar." Mr. O'Brien's talk shows that he has studied grammar closely.

Prof. A. Y. Maxey gave an interesting address on "Beacon Lights." Every sentence of his lecture was full of rich and beautiful thought.

The music for the occasion was furnished by Miss Virginia Galloway and Miss Mary Alexander.

Supt. Driskell heartily thanked Irvington for the gracious reception and entertainment.

How Base-Ball Was Started

The devil was the first coacher. He coached Eve when she stole first; Adam stole second. When Isaac met Rebecca at the well she was walking with a pitcher. Sampson struck out a good many times when he beat the Philistines. Moses made his first run when he slew the Egyptian. Cain made a base hit when he killed Abel. Abraham made a sacrifice, and the prodigal son made a home run.

THOS. NEUBAUER PASSES AWAY

Established First Bakery in Owensboro--Father Of John Neubauer Of This City --Was Seventy Six Years Old FUNERAL HELD SUNDAY

Mr. Thomas Neubauer, an aged and highly respected citizen, died at 8 o'clock Thursday morning, death being due to infirmities incident to old age. He was too ill to perform any kind of labor for about four weeks before his death. He was the first baker the city ever had, his business operated under the name of the City Bakery from the time he established it 59 years ago till his death. His business occupied the building in which it is at present located for over forty years. Mr. Neubauer was a modest and unassuming man, possessed a high sense of honor, and he enjoyed the esteem and confidence of all who knew him.

Mr. Neubauer was born in the kingdom of Bavaria, on January 7, 1835, and came to Owensboro to reside in August, 1852 and he was engaged in the bakery business here from that time until his death, except the time he served in the Union army as a baker. Two years after coming to Owensboro he was married to Miss Scifield of Jeffersonville, Ind., in the year 1854, and after her death he married Mrs. Margaret Wagner of Owensboro, October 7, 1892. He never resided outside the city during his 59 years residence here. He was the father of 14 children, six of whom are living. They are: Mrs. J. W. Lane, Miss Christina Neubauer, Mrs. Chas. Hale, of Rockport, Ind.; Thos. Neubauer, Jr., John Neubauer, of Cloverport, and Mrs. Elmer Mahoney. He is also survived by 12 grandchildren, and three great grand children. Mr. Fred Seifried of Gurdsville is his brother-in-law. His brothers and sisters are all dead. Mr. Frank Wagner is a step son by his second wife. He has two step daughters residing in Evansville.

The funeral took place from the Zion Evangelical church at 2 p. m. Sunday, the services were conducted by the pastor, Rev. H. F. Greife. —Owensboro Enquirer.

TEACHERS SEND SUPT. DRISKELL AWAY

For a Little Journey to California to Attend the National Teachers' Meeting Next July.

SUPT. GREATLY SURPRISED.

At the close of the Teachers' Association at Irvington Saturday Pres. Martin requested Supt. Driskell to stand, whereupon he, Martin, formally charged the superintendent with having been too busy for the last twenty years. Continuing, he said, "You are tired, and we are tired, too—so tired that we wish to send you away to California—as far as we can send you that you may rest and attend the National Teachers' Association in July. We take pleasure in presenting you a check to defray your expenses." Overcome with surprise and pleasure, Mr. Driskell yet found words to thank the fifty-seven donors whose cheerful and liberal giving sends him on a trip across the continent, a valuable adjunct to any man's education. An instance of what a well trained team can do was seen one night last week when the bus horses were left a few minutes at the depot. They left in perfect order for town and made their usual stop at the post office. From there they went to the Commercial, stopped a minute or two, turned and went as usual to the Brick Hotel, stopped and then went on to the livery stable, executing every turn with the precision of an expert driver. By this time they were overtaken and hastily driven back to the depot for the waiting passengers, which had arrived on the train which in the mean time had come in.
